BETTER WORK

A few examples

- In Haiti, improvements in working conditions facilitated by Better Work have coincided with an increase of over 40% in the value of apparel exports to the US.
- In 2013, we helped bolster Lesotho's maternity laws. Garment workers working for one year or more are now entitled six weeks paid maternity leave, increasing from two weeks.
- Our work with labour inspectorates supports long-term sustainability.

- In our study of Vietnamese factories, there was a 5.9% boost in profitability when workers perceived improvements in their conditions and a 7.6% increase when employees described their workplace as ‘comfortable’.
- Workers reached their daily production target nearly 40 minutes faster than their counterparts working in harsher conditions.
- A 1% increase in wage levels was associated with a 0.6% increase in revenue relative to cost.
- Workers sent wages home, bringing health and education benefits to their families.
